

WAR CRY.

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

25th Year.

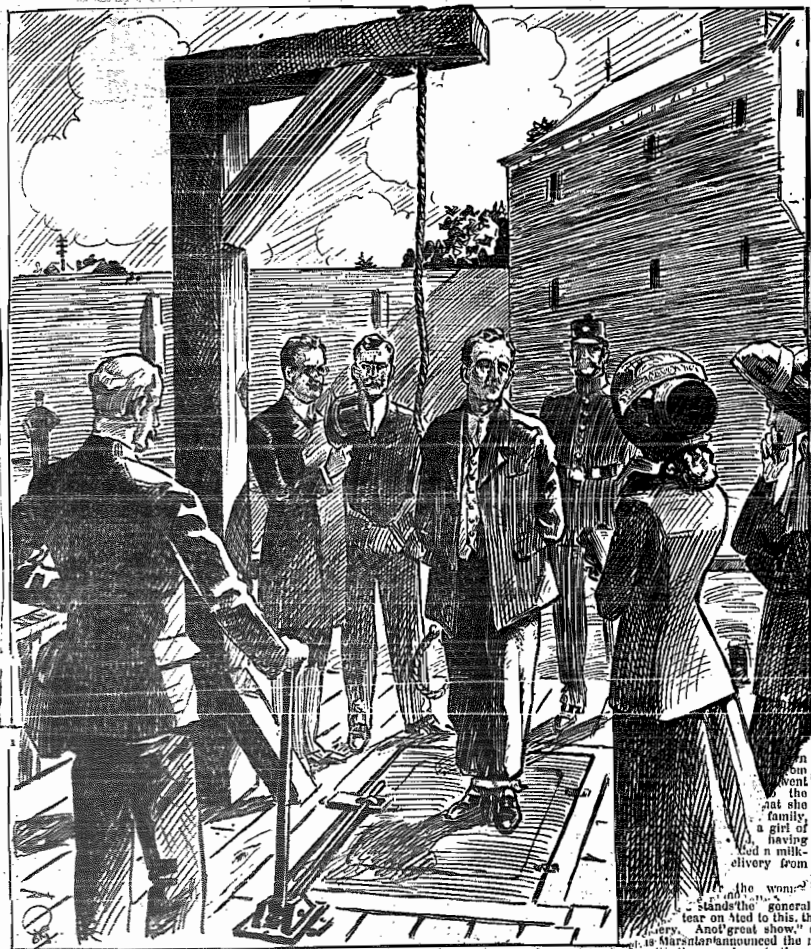

WILLIAM BOUTH,
Editor.

TORONTO, JULY 13, 1912.

DAVID M. RE, Commodore.

No. 45.

Price: Five cents.

WITH A MURDERER AT THE SCAFF

the woman stands the general pub-tear on tied to this, the "if is Marshtar announced the me
"agitation" in way down to the grot
"ack space" who were present agre that the eldren could not have missed shorter it for bre
steam

is men on he vanced Afghan remark

A Unique Distinction Carried by the 2nd Goorkhas.

Officers' Wedding at Dovercourt

Candidate. But home circulations intervened to prevent her going to the Training Home, for four years she had to wait. Four times she had her trunk packed ready to go, and as many times she had fearfully to unpack it and stay at home. At one time her mother fell sick, and then in her sister died, and then something else happened. She had about made up her mind that it was no longer the Lord's will for her to go, when she received a letter, an encouraging letter, from Brigadier Taylor, the Principal of the Training Home. This completely changed her mind. (See Page 11.)

Their Cause and Effects

[illegible]

For Particulars of This

(1) Strings painted with sticky live fly trap. (2) A God's head novel and successful trap for in dustbins with disinfectant. (3) Catching flies with an American [Numbers to c]

A cyclone seldom has a diameter less than six hundred miles and occasionally they exceed 8,000 miles. The rates at which they move over the surface vary greatly, the average in North America being 24 miles an hour, in the Atlantic 20 miles, and in Europe 20 miles. A rate as high as 70 miles has occurred in the Indian Ocean. One of a cyclone the broadest feature of weather is an area of rain somewhat in front of the centre, surrounded by a ring of clouds, outside which the sky is clear.

The most dreadfully attendant on tropical cyclones is the storm wave caused by the blowing winds and the low pressure of the centre of the storm. When this wave is unusually high and is hurried forward on a low-lying coast at high water it becomes

(Continued on Page 14.)

Picture Ser. Page 14.

(1) Material. (2) A cheap and effective, dabbed with sticky stuff. (3) A catching flies. (4) Covering refuse. (5) An inoffensive fly trap. (6) "Fly swatter." (7) and crows gaze.

BRO. E. THOMPSON OF
PT. LEAMINGTON, N.Y.D.
The Death Messenger has visited the home of Brother and Sister Thompson and taken away their youngest son, Elmer, for almost two weeks he was laid aside with pneumonia. During his illness he made his peace with God, and when visited he was always found to be happy.
On Monday we gave him and Arden a grand funeral and a Signal Ride. The Rev. Mr. Richards also took part in the service.
On the following Sunday night we held a memorial service, when two souls found the Saviour and were granted to live. The sisters, feel their loss keenly. Our sympathy is with them.—A. M.

SISTER L. SNOW

"I don't want anybody to mourn for me when I go, but I want you to remember me to our dear comrade Sister Helen Goldrick, of Vancouver 1, to Adelaide, to my dear friends, and to all my friends, and to all my promotion, and as the band played the sweet strains of "Jerusalem, My Happy Home" at the funeral, I thought of all the things we were reminded of the fact that our comrade certainly had a very good home, and that he would share. Poor, without a single relation living, so far as I know, nearly ninety years of age, unmarried, and without even wife and home, yet rich in Christ and with an absolute trust in God, and a complete knowledge about the things of God and his testimony was given regularly. He was a man of great health for some time, and expected the call for which he was ready; in fact, only a few days before he died. He said the Angel who was visiting him to "put my right up to Heaven."

upon which we can always count. I compliment The Salvation Army (led by Sir Clifford, having placed a steel helmet and expressed his great pleasure in its presence), and that for their persistence and enterprise. I use the phrase in the romantic sense, because after all that is their duty, and they are doing it for the benefit of their fellow-men.

I am also pleased to be here because of my very close and long association with the great Chief and Head of this Organization—General Booth. One of the earliest people I remember, I suppose, is this great work, which has helped not only in this country as we know it, but throughout the whole universe, my father supported him—when, I may add, it was not so fashionable to do so as it is to-day.

AUSTRALIA.

Our Australian comrades have recently concluded their annual meeting at the Congress of the Y. P. C. at Melbourne, where delegates from all the States were present, while the Officers for the year were elected. The Y. P. C. is now at full strength, and reports a record growth of the Salvation Army in different parts of the Territory. The work is being carried on by the Y. P. C. at the opening meeting, and Louisa, and Mrs. Fisher foreclosed the National, which was the first. It has been appointed Chief Secretary. A feature of the Congress was the Young People's demonstration, and in Melbourne the Exhibition Building. A thousand took part. Very few of them sang together a special song.

been given a most affectionate and enthusiastic welcome. At the reception meeting the Congregationalist gave a stirring address which made a great impression. It is a greatly felt that there is a growing feeling of sympathy and expression of sympathetic interest in The Army and its Work, and that of which we are proud to be a part. Everything is going on with the inauguration of the new order of things is a sign of the times and the promise for the still more vigorous promotion of the Salvation Army in the Dominion are very encouraging.

SOUTH AFRICA.
Gosmini-Inner Radio received a very impressive message from the inmates of Johannesburg jail. He spoke to them of the new experience of the young jail, had determined to ignore all religion, but how the Lord met him, and how he came with his love, and how for the power, said she was saved, his desire, said to help her in the decision of giving her power to give up snuff and beer.

A FIRST-AID DEPARTMENT.
At the Army's school in Washington, D. C., there are 12 different departments of Departments, all varying in size, capacity, and importance, and each doing some necessary work in the training and education of the men of the Salvation War. But in this there is one Department the existence of which few people are aware of. Its name is The First Aid, or Ambulance, Department, and it is the largest of all the departments. It is directed by Major Tom Bell. It is worth while to stop just before both the ambulance and the first aid department. P. O. St. John Ambulance Association for First Aid; he has passed the examination for the diploma of qualification in First Aid, and has also been qualified for the diploma of qualification in First Aid, and has also been qualified for the diploma of qualification in First Aid to the Injured, New York.

sprained ankle. One "patient" had a fish bone lodged in his throat, and the matter was sufficiently serious to warrant his being sent to the hospital; another there is another case on record of a coal man breaking his neck cap through overexertion. It is noteworthy that the treatment applied by our Ambulance comrades has often been highly commended by the doctors in whose hands the patients whose hands in sick or injured people have been forwarded gone.

SOCIAL NOTES.

"Considering the conditions surrounding the world, we must arrive at your door. Commissioners are not men who they take kindly to the gospel of soap as we have been preaching."

"Yes, it is," the Commissioner answered, "but the real rationale that a spiritual regeneration of these very men now, the habits and moral tone of the place, have their effect, and the restoration of the city to its former glory as it goes for as our students will make it possible!"

Captain Mercer and Lieut. Boe have been welcomed to Rhode Avenue. On Sunday afternoon, the Commissioners, the Mayor, and the Cadet-Sergeants took part in the meeting, and at night the Mayor and the Cadet-Sergeants. The meeting was well attended.

